J.J. Mauget upgrades micro-injection delivery system

California Fairways , July-August, 2003

The J.J. Mauget Co. added the GENERATION II delivery system to its product line. The product will provide Mauget, distributors and professional applicators with a high-quality delivery system of a full line of pesticide and fertilization products available.

The GENERATION II delivery system offers many advantages over the previous system, including no high-pressure or bark-separation damage, less tools needed for application, no "O" rings, hermetically sealed capsules, and a simple two-piece system engineered to provide consistent, safe performance.

The first product offered in the GENERATION II system will be IMICIDE with Imidacloprid (a Bayer product). Mauget will gradually move its other products into the GENERATION II delivery system.
